Can solar power be used in Antarctica?

Although advancements in technology are now making solar a more viable option for use in the polar regions, there is already a history of solar power supporting scientists in the Arctic and Antarctica. For example, the British Antarctic Survey's Halley VI research station is powered by a combination of solar panels and wind turbines.

Why did the British Antarctic Survey buy our solar panels?

The British Antarctic Survey purchased our solar panels to help power remote loggers in the harsh environment of Antarctica- further proof of how durable these panels are! As we import directly from the manufacturer, we can ensure a decent quality panel at an incredible price.

Can solar panels run in Arctic and Antarctica?

In fact, some studies suggest that cooler temperatures can help solar panels run more efficiently. Instead, solar panels rely on solar radiation to produce energy. So, the question isn't whether the Arctic and Antarctica are warm enough, but whether they get enough sun exposure. The fact is that we can use solar panels at the poles.

What is a CIGS 150W solar panel?

This CIGS 150W solar panel excels in anti-shading performance, delivering peak output in various lighting conditions, and seamlessly integrates with diverse roof shapes due to its 360-degree bending capability and multi-module series connection. The adhesive mounting simplifies installation without screws, reducing wear and tear.

How long do solar panels last?

All of the solar panels on offer are built to perform for many years: their power output is guaranteed to be at least 80% of their rated power even after 20 years of service. The British Antarctic Survey purchased our solar panels to help power remote loggers in the harsh environment of Antarctica - further proof of how durable these panels are!

Can solar power power research centers year-round?

In addition, during the winter months, the sun may not rise for several months at a time. This makes solar power generation practically obsolete during these periods. So, solar power may not be sufficient to consistently power research centers year-round without other power generation methods.
