What happens when a solar PV contract ends?

When the contracts come to an end the customer can choose to remove the system, extend the PPA or purchase the energy system. On-site solar PV generation can take the form of either a large-scale rooftop installation on a commercial or industrial (C&I) site, or a ground-mount installation on adjacent land.

What happens if a solar EPC contractor fails to complete a project?

Solar EPC contracts generally provide fixed dates for project completion. If the contractor fails to complete on time, it will often be liable for liquidated damages (LDs), unless it is entitled to claim an extension of time to the completion date, thereby reducing or avoiding liability for LDs.

What is a PV installation agreement?

The Installation Agreement is a lump-sum agreement between the project company, as owner of the project, and the installation contractor, the contractor that will be responsible for installing the PV system, providing the balance of plant and commissioning the plant.

What should a solar panel contract include?

Your solar panels' contract should estimate how much energy will be produced and what savings the client can expect. This section of the agreement should clearly outline how the system's performance will be monitored and what guarantees are given. Solar power has many benefits for businesses and commercial properties, such as

Will EPC contracts provide for the handover of a solar facility?

EPC Contracts will not provide for the handover of the solar facility to the Project Company, and the PPA will not become effective until all commissioning and reliability trialling has been successfully completed.

Do solar projects need an EPC contract?

In our experience, most utility-scale solar projects use an EPC Contract. An operation and maintenance agreement: This is usually a medium- to long-term Operating and Maintenance Agreement (O&M Agreement) with an Operator. The term of the O&M Agreement will vary from project to project.
